“Providing excellent, compassionate care and keeping my patients well and out of the ER or hospital is my goal.”

About Susan C. Schayes, MD, MPH, FAAFP

Dr. Susan Schayes is passionate about the health of her individual patients, as well as neighborhoods and communities. "Having a therapeutic, meaningful, long-term relationship with my patients means everything to me," she says. Becoming a doctor is something she knew she was going to do since age 5. Now, she's working with seniors who Dr. Schayes calls: "a vibrant and fun group… rich in culture, perspective and heritage that I respect." Dr. Schayes knows that her patients live very full lives and are too busy to be ill. That's why she considers herself as their partner in wellness. "Providing excellent, compassionate care and keeping my patients well and out of the ER or hospital is my goal," she says.
