

“I love being able to impact someone’s life and brighten their day.”

About Enoch Kotei, MD

In Dr. Enoch Kotei’s years as a primary care physician, he’s found genuine satisfaction contributing to the well-being of others. Whether he’s detecting, managing, or preventing health conditions, Dr. Kotei says, “I love being able to impact someone’s life and brighten their day.”

One of his favorite things about caring for seniors has been the tremendous amount of mutual respect. “With my parents in that age group,” he adds, “I am focused on delivering the same kind of care that I would want them to receive.”

Away from work, Dr. Kotei cherishes time with his wife and sons. He also likes to keep up with the NBA, create content for his YouTube channel called TrustPCP, and travel the world.
