“I appreciate the life experience seniors share, and I want to ensure they get the time and assistance their care requires.”

About Dana Keys-Frezzell , MD

In the many years Dr. Dana Keys-Frezzell has practiced internal medicine, she’s believed that each patient has purpose and importance and should be cared for with the utmost dignity and respect. It was ingrained in her from childhood—by her RN mother who fueled her medical interests, and by her faith.

Reflecting on her experience with seniors, she says “It’s been a fulfilling privilege to sit and learn about my patients as we develop a plan that best meets their needs and goals. I appreciate the life experience seniors share, and I want to ensure they get the time and assistance their care requires.”

When she’s not working, Dr. Keys-Frezzell loves to spend time with her husband and four sons. She also likes to read and visit historical sites.
