

“I take a very patient-centered approach. I listen and don’t rush or interrupt patients. I am also interested in their lives.”

About Samer Shaja, DO

Since Dr. Samer Shaja was in high school, he has loved science and welcomed the challenge of helping others with it. Dedicated to providing the best care, Dr. Shaja believes in doing more than treating conditions and prescribing the correct medication. “I take a very patient-centered approach,” Dr. Shaja says. “I listen and don’t rush or interrupt patients. I am also interested in their lives.” With these deeper connections, Dr. Shaja feels he can help and empower patients more fully. “It’s rewarding to see them become healthier and stronger,” he adds.

During his free time, Dr. Shaja enjoys exercise, soccer, billiards, movies, and spending time with his extended family. One of his favorite memories is vacationing with them in Mexico.
