

“I truly care about my patients and helping them improve their health. I especially love working with seniors because I feel I can make a bigger difference.”

About Arash Taheri, MD

Dr. Arash Taheri is a board-certified internal medicine physician who’s been passionate about caring for patients since he was in high school. With more than 20 years of experience, he says, “I truly care about my patients and helping them improve their health. I especially love working with seniors because I feel I can make a bigger difference.” The ultimate reward for Dr. Taheri is seeing his patients live a longer, more active life with better quality.

In addition to his primary care focus, Dr. Taheri specializes in dermatology and wound care. When he’s not with patients, Dr. Taheri enjoys keeping up with the latest medical research, spending time with his wife and two kids, photography, hiking, and playing tennis.
