“It was the human interaction and the doctor-patient relationship that really made me choose becoming a physician.”

About Richard N. Baney Jr., MD, MBA

Dr. Richard N. Baney Jr. has always been fascinated in science and human physiology. He explains, “it was the human interaction and the doctor-patient relationship that really made me choose becoming a physician.” Dr. Baney loves hearing stories from the seniors at JenCare Medical Center and strives to get his patients engaged in their care. He has particular interest in behavioral health, rheumatology, and wellness. To stay up to date in the field, Dr. Baney subscribes to various journals and e-newsletters.

When not with patients, Dr. Baney enjoys cooking, spending time with his wife and kids, and participating in outdoor activities, such as rowing and running. Dr. Baney hopes to one day travel to Canada.
