

“This is more than a profession for me. I believe I am called to make a difference in the lives of people.”

About Victoria Agbola, APRN

Victoria Agbola, a family nurse practitioner, prides herself in attentively listening to her patients. “I give them 100% undivided attention when with me at the clinic, and I let them know their opinion towards their care is important,” she says. Victoria Agbola was inspired by her grandmother, who, thanks to “love, care, and attention,” lived to be over one-hundred years old. She hopes to offer the same care and attention to her senior patients. “This is more than a profession for me. I believe I am called to make a difference in the lives of people,” she says.

In her free time, Victoria Agbola loves spending time with her children, singing, and volunteering at church. She also enjoys watching Hallmark movies.
