

“Because seniors have given their life to this country, I would like to give them back the best care, attention, and treatment.”

About Alejandro Herrera, MD

Dr. Alejandro Herrera knew as a child that he wanted to pursue a career in healthcare. “My favorite thing about medicine is being a part of a profession that is so focused on helping others, a profession in which the main goal is to improve the quality of life of the people, and when you are able to see the results, the feeling of accomplishment,” he says. He loves building connections with patients by giving them his full attention and learning about them beyond their health concerns. “Because seniors have given their life to this country, I would like to give them back the best care, attention, and treatment,” he says.

Dr. Herrera loves spending his free time with his family. He also enjoys cooking, jogging, and watching sports.
