“I enjoy building relationships with his senior patients through frequent visits and I always like to listen before being heard.”

About Carl Rudebusch, MD

During college, Dr. Carl Rudebusch went on a medical mission trip to Managua, Nicaragua. “This experience humbled me seeing the struggle that so many people face to obtain medical care; the experience motivated me to pursue medicine as a career to serve the underserved,” he says. One of his favorite parts of being a physician are the endless opportunities to gain “knowledge in the pursuit of better care.” He enjoys building relationships with his senior patients through frequent visits and says he always like to “listen before being heard.”

In his free time, Dr. Rudebusch enjoys road biking, mountain biking, and playing tennis. He loves spending time with his friends, family, and greyhound, Annie. He is also a huge Formula 1 fan.
