

“I am always willing to listen and learn new things.”

About Nacobi Lewis, MSN, NP-BC

Nacobi Lewis always knew she wanted to work in healthcare. Growing up, she often visited her mother at work, who she served as a nurse in an assisted living facility. “I have always connected with seniors,” she says. She adds, “I have seen healthcare from the view of the patient, a caregiver, a concerned family member, and a provider. I saw the gaps in care personally, and I made it my mission from then on to help seniors.” She loves empowering patients and getting to know them and their families. “I am always willing to listen and learn new things,” she says.

Nacobi Lewis enjoys visiting local parks and vineyards in her free time. She also loves spending time with her dog and her sons when they are home from college.
