About Cabrina Ridley-Davis, DNP, APRN, FNP-C

Cabrina Ridley-Davis believes in “transparency and open communication.” She explains, “My job is to listen and understand my patient. The last thing I would want my patients to believe is that I want to control or take over their health.” She enjoys working with the senior population and aims to improve their health and reduce their hospital visits. “The reward for being a great provider is seeing my patient’s health improve,” she says. She often listens to medical podcasts. “It is imperative to stay in the know,” she explains. She adds, “I am a very happy and positive person that is looking forward to making a difference.”

When not caring for patients, Cabrina Ridley-Davis enjoys relaxing, cooking, and spending time with family.
