

“The only way to create a strong bond is getting to know your patients on a deep, personal level to help develop trust and respect.”

About Tyrone Daniels, MD, FACC

Dr. Tyrone Daniels always knew he wanted to work in healthcare. “Getting to know my patients personally and working to improve their lives has always been an important part of my calling to this profession. There is no greater need than to work to improve the lives of our elders and this is what I strive to accomplish,” he says.

He greatly enjoys learning from seniors. “The only way to create a strong bond is getting to know your patients on a deep, personal level to help develop trust and respect,” he explains. He adds that he is empathetic, compassionate, and will always have his patients’ “best interests at heart.”

Dr. Daniels loves spending time with family and watching movies in his down time. He is also a target shooter.

Tyrone Daniels, MD, FACC

LANGUAGES SPOKEN

English

SPECIALTIES

Cardiology

EDUCATION

University of Iowa Roy J. and Lucille A. Carver
College of Medicine
University of Illinois Chicago
Washington and Lee University

ASSOCIATIONS

American College of Cardiology
American Society of Echocardiography

MY CENTER(S)

Newburg

1918 Hikes Lane, Suite 102,
Louisville, KY, 40218

\(502\) 473-4067473-4067)

Request Appt.

View Center

Shively

3939 Seventh Street Rd.,
Louisville, KY, 40216

\(502\) 883-6800883-6800)

Request Appt.

View Center