

“I feel that being of service to others is the greatest contribution one can make to humanity.”

About Todd Deavens, MD

Dr. Todd Deavens realized his interest in healthcare at a young age. “I feel that being of service to others is the greatest contribution one can make to humanity,” he says. He enjoys getting to know his patients and says his favorite part of being a physician is helping patients reach “their health and wellness goals.” He is passionate about caring for the senior population and wants his patients to know he is “fully invested in their wellbeing.” He explains, “I feel that increasing the quality of life for seniors will benefit society as a whole.”

Dr. Deavens loves reading, hiking, and traveling in his free time. He also enjoys serving as a mentor and was a middle and high school educator for ten years before becoming a physician.
