

“I enjoy their company, stories, experience, and wisdom.”

About Shavon Davis, MSN, FNP-BC

Shavon Davis discovered her interest in the medical field at only five years old, when her aunt gifted her a microscope. “They say if you love what you do, you’ll never work a day in your life. With that being said, I feel blessed that God has given me this passion and I truly love what I do,” she explains. For Shavon Davis, cultivating strong relationships with patients is the best part of working in healthcare. She especially likes caring for the senior population, explaining, “I enjoy their company, stories, experience, and wisdom.”

In her down time, Shavon Davis enjoys going to dinner with her husband and taking her kids to theme parks. She also loves traveling and hopes to visit Alaska one day.
