“I hope to be a care provider who not only cures but cares, supports, and respects every individual.”

About Kemisola C. Adebambo, DNP, ARNP, FNP-C

Kemisola “Kemi” C. Adebambo is dedicated to providing compassionate and thoughtful care. “I hope to be a care provider who not only cures but cares, supports, and respects every individual,” she explains. She has a “genuine interest” in her patients’ lives and strives to make them feel valued and heard. Kemi explains, “It is more than treating illness, it’s about listening, understanding, and helping people live with comfort and dignity.” She often participates in medical missions by traveling to underdeveloped countries, which she finds incredibly rewarding.

When Kemi is not caring for patients, she can be found spending quality time with her family, trying new recipes, or engaging in fellowship at her local church.
