

“I am here to support you beyond just medical care.”

About Areej Rahman, MBBS

Dr. Areej Rahman explains that her passion for helping others and her fascination with “problem-solving in a meaningful way” led her to a career in healthcare. She has a particular interest in addressing “the unique medical emotional challenges that come with aging.” Dr. Rahan loves “educating and empowering patients.” She explains, “I am here to support you beyond just medical care.” To build strong relationships with patients, she practices “active listening, clear communication, consistence, and reliability.”

When Dr. Rahman is not caring for patients, she can be found connecting with friends and family and enjoying game nights. She also likes cooking, practicing photography, watching movies, and participating in sports.
