About Janan Mohammady, M.D.

Dr. Janan Mohammady chose to become a physician “to make a meaningful impact through long-term, patient-centered care.” She explains, “I listen closely, communicare clearly, and follow-through.” Chronic disease management, preventive care, and patient education are key within her practice. She particularly enjoys caring for seniors “because they benefit greatly from proactive, relationship-based medicine.” She is “committed to being a long-term partner” in her patients’ health journeys. “My goal is to help every patient feel valued, supported, and cared for,” she says.

In her down time, Janan enjoys traveling, exploring new places around Virginia, and spending quality time with family and friends.
