“I learned a lot from my grandmother, and I loved seeing the care she received from her provider. I want to provide the seniors with exceptional care while they are still here.”

About Omega Chiquita Savage, NP

Omega Chiquita Savage was inspired to care for the senior population by her grandmother, who raised her. “She lived to be in her 90s. I learned a lot from my grandmother, and I loved seeing the care she received from her provider. I want to provide the seniors with exceptional care while they are still here,” she says. She highly values education within her practice, explaining that when patients understand their health conditions, they have better outcomes. She prioritizes active listening and enjoys learning about her patients’ lives beyond just their medical concerns.

Omega loves watching sports, especially football, basketball, and track and field, in her down time. She also enjoys playing Bingo on Sundays.
