

Hershema Burnett, NP

LANGUAGES SPOKEN
English

SPECIALTIES
Primary Care

EDUCATION
Indiana Wesleyan University

MY CENTER

West Broadway

2406 West Broadway,
Louisville, KY, 40211

(502) 775-1211

Request Appt.

View Center

“The senior population is special to me because a lot of them are in a vulnerable state and don't have an advocate for their healthcare.”

About Hershema Burnett, NP

Hershema Burnett was called to medicine by a genuine love of helping others feel their best and nurturing them back to health. "The senior population is special to me because a lot of them are in a vulnerable state and don't have an advocate for their healthcare," she says. "I love being there for them in their time of need." For Hershema, great care is built on a strong foundation — one rooted in active listening, mutual respect, teamwork, accountability, and honesty. Her ultimate goal is simple but powerful: helping her patients achieve more good days. "When a patient has more good days, it means more time they can spend enjoying what they love to do," she says.

When not with patients, Hershema enjoys spending time with her husband, children, and grandchildren. She loves learning new things, listening to podcasts on walks, and soaking up the ocean and sunshine.