About David Smith, MD

Dr. David Smith was drawn to medicine by a deeply personal inspiration — fulfilling a dream his mother was never given the chance to pursue. "I had the opportunity and found it rewarding," he says. Dr. Smith is known for his ability to make even the most complex medical situations understandable. "I have a gift of making people understand complexities and the gravity of situations," he says. He approaches every patient relationship as a true partnership — gathering all the pertinent information, walking patients through every step, and offering his best recommendation as if they were a member of his own family. "I work as your medical partner," he says. "We share in a decision with you being fully informed."

Straightforward, genuine, and comprehensive, Dr. Smith stays closely engaged with his patients as a teammate and believes that partnership is often the key to a good outcome.

When not with patients, Dr. Smith is an avid UConn basketball fan and a passionate musician.
