A CHENMED COMPANY

“I am passionate about providing exceptional care for my patients, which can enable them to live healthy lives.”

About Melissa Ann McDowell, DNP, MSN, APRN, FNP-BC

Melissa Ann McDowell realized at an early age that medicine is her “calling.” She especially loves caring for the senior population and is committed to treating patients as she would her family. “I am passionate about providing exceptional care for my patients, which can enable them to live healthy lives,” she says. She strives to provide patients with care that is collaborative, safe, and holistic. She explains, “I use a caring model and evidence-based research to guide my approach in caring for my patients.”

When not caring for patients, Melissa McDowell can be found cooking, traveling with her spouse, or volunteering at her church. She also enjoys reading, working out, and going on walks.
